The Inside Scoop

When and why did Porchfest begin? By total serendipity! The first Porchfest was in 2007, inspired by some outdoor ukulele playing and a conversation between neighbors Gretchen Hildreth and Lesley Greene.

How many bands play each year? It's amazing how many Ithacans are musicians! Porchfest has grown from 20 musical acts in 2007 to about 150 this year.

How are bands chosen to play? Just by signing up! We don't curate the lineup or match musicians to porches—anyone who signs up before the deadline and has a porch to play on is IN. We love how it showcases the full creative depth of our community.

Who organizes Porchfest? A small but mighty group of volunteers! For the first six years, it was just Gretchen and Lesley. Andy Adelewitz stepped in just in the nick of time in 2013. Katie Foley joined the team in 2018 as food truck organizer (we love food!). Gretchen stepped away in 2019, but this year we gained two wonderful volunteer coordinators: Kathy Raine and Kerry Anne Buckman! Micah Beem-Miller is assisting on the food truck detail. What a great team!

What does it cost? Not much at all, cuz we keep it simple! It takes a few thousand dollars to cover Porchfest expenses, including permit fees, insurance, port-a-john rentals, and paying our visual artist and crossing guards. The organizers aren't paid to put this together, and the performers play for free. Income comes from a portion of T-shirt sales, food vendor fees, and donations from people around the neighborhood (have you donated yet?). We had money in the bank this year, fortunately, but next year we will need a sponsor! Contact us at info@porchfest.org if that might be you.

Where else are there Porchfests? Porchfest started in Ithaca, but the idea has spread far and wide. There are 170 Porchfests that we know of in the U.S. and Canada, plus one in Australia!

What else? Porchfest wouldn't be possible without dozens of volunteers staffing the barricades and helping direct traffic. And it really wouldn't be possible without all the great people who play each year for their neighbors!

Thank you!
